ST. MICHAEL'S COLLEGE ARCHIVES

A SOLID FUTURE

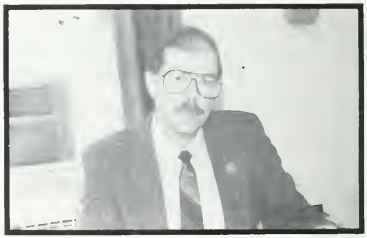
Principal's Message
Fr. Leo Campbell C.S.B.

In the opening line of one of his poems, Edgar A. Guest writes "It takes a heap o' livin' In a house t' make it home." How often I have thought of that poem since I first read it as a young student. Consider the specific difference between a "house" and a "home". Is it not precisely the quality of our living that makes the difference? I'm sure we all have our own answer and even if we can't readily put it into words, we know the difference.

I am now finishing my second year here at St. Michael's and it's really beginning to feel like home. "It takes a heap o' livin' ". You graduates have "lived" here for five years. I hope you feel at home. I hope you will always feel part of the St. Michael's family and that you will come home often. Please know that you will always be welcomed, and we will be anxious to have news of your progress.

As you go out now to begin a new phase of your life I, on behalf of our entire staff and student body, wish you well. We are confident that you have been well prepared for the tasks ahead. We know that you have the skills and knowledge to be successful. It is our further hope that the experiences you have had are positive ones that will be a support to you in the future. We hope your "heap o' livin' " here disposes you to call St. Michael's "home".

Never forget who you are. Be true to your God, your parents, your school and yourself. And know that St. Michael's College School will always be home to you.



Paul Dignan
Director of Studies

Many years ago, in a book called The Prophet by Kahlil Gibran, I read that "you give but little when you give of your possessions, it is when you give of yourself that you truly give." Now, how does that tie in with this yearbook's theme of the future of our students?

Quite simply, I see our lives, yours and mine, as lives called to service. No matter what your career goal or vocation may be, you will strive to serve yourself, your family, your friends, your community, your God in the best way possible. This is not just a thought for the future, it is happening right now at St. Mike's as you prepare for that future.

I see my own job as one of service to you and the teachers. The organization and administration of a great number of details help to create the best possible atmosphere in which you may share a rich learning experience. When it comes to service, you cannot surpass the dedication of the men and women on our faculty. They do a superb job in the classroom and then they turn their time and talents to the huge extra-curricular program here at school. But what makes it all so great is that you, the students, experience all this service and respond in kind. You help students who need a little extra tutoring, you teach the catechism classes, you do Meals on Wheels/ Foot, you go to The Refuge/ Out of the Cold. You participate in teams, you take part in the plays, you debate, you work on the yearbook/ newspaper, you help with Student Government . . . and the list goes on.

St. Mike's is such a great community because each of you tries to learn how you can "give of yourself" a little more each day. I hope you the graduates, will carry that thought with you as you strive for your goals and as you continue to serve God.

Jack Fenn
Vice-Principal

As the principle resident of room 214, much of my time and energy is spent dealing with students, teachers, parents, and discipline.

Having arrived in this office after over a quarter of a century spent as a classroom teacher, it is hoped that I have not forgotten the many lessons learned from my many students. Certainly in my mind, students are the most important ingredient of our school community, and without them, none of us would even be here. The attempt to deal with students in a just, fair, compassionate and forgiving manner, is the aim of this office, and I would hope this is recognizable to the school community at large.

Good school discipline is certainly not the result of the efforts of any single person. It is the product of a good, loyal and committed staff, working with reasonable requests, and co-operative students. It produces a comfortable atmosphere where learning and mutual development may occur. I feel we have this here at St. Michael's.

I realize that many of the issues that appear as problems must seem trivial to many. What is so important about wearing the proper shirt, tucked in, with your tie done up? The point is, we are attempting to teach, through these simple and definable demands, a much deeper concept of discipline, an inner self discipline. The discipline that each and everyone of us needs, to help us push to the limit, each of our God given talents. Until you understand this, and master your own self discipline you will not grow to your fullest potential.

When we have lived our lives out it will not necessarily be the most wealthy or famous of us that will count as a winner, it will be those of us who along the way, have pushed each and every one of our talents to the limit that will take the day. To do this you will require the kind of inner discipline we at St. Michael's in all areas of our work with students are trying to teach.

Domenic M. Carullo
Editor-In-Chief

A long time ago, in a galaxy far, far away, a supernatural megaforce was created with powers too powerful to imagine. This force was able to transform frail, infantile creatures into strong, intelligent superior beings. This megaforce, controlled by a selected few, has settled itself on the little blue and green planet on ideal land for a tri-level teaching institution, a football field, an arena, and even Fr. Zinger's gardens. And it was called - ST. MICHAEL'S COLLEGE. In existence longer than Fr. Mulcahy, and open for more hours than 7-11, thousands of St. Michael's students have been receiving goodness, discipline, and knowledge at its finest while also expanding all parameters of their characters. Academics, athletics, organized activities, and spiritual growth have been the backbone of St. Michael's for several years and has created many success stories. All young men who walk through that golden arch can be sure of one thing - A SOLID FUTURE.

As the editor-in-chief of this season's TOWER, I felt it was my duty to publish a yearbook that displayed a full year of happenings. One glance at this yearbook and I am positive, you will be astonished. You will say, "Gosh! All that stuff happened last year?" Well, yeah it did! St. Mike's is the greatest high school in Tor. . . Can . . . the world and it is time the other schools notice. Sure, everyone realizes that we dominate the amateur sporting scene, but what about our dances? (Line-ups to get in to our dances usually reaching Pickering). What about our newspaper? (It is expected that by 1992, the Blue Herald will be Toronto's largest subscribing daily newspaper). What about our barbecues? (It is rumoured that about 53 high schools in T.O. have hired private investigators to find out the secret recipe for the SMC hot dog). And what about the yearbook? Well, you're reading it, aren't you?

It is quite obvious that St. Mike's is extremely successful in everything we partake, and that is the theme of this year's TOWER - a successful future, a bright future, A SOLID FUTURE. It was a great honour and a privilege to be the editor of the 1990 TOWER. Thank you students and staff for your support.

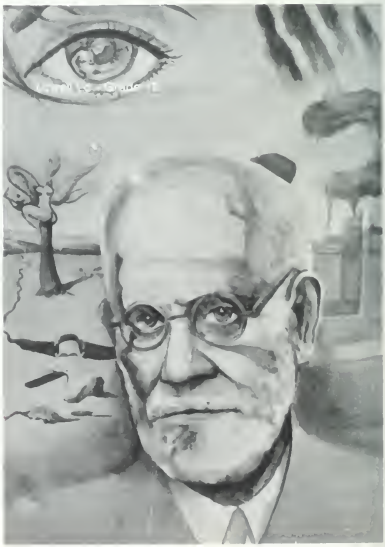
EXPRESS



YOURSELF

AS ONE

Thriving, dying, growing; yet it never stops,
Always rejoicing in the eternal autumn breeze.
The long awaited solstice crop,
Whose signal is the crimson leaves.

Still we come to destroy,
Armed without the knowing,
That with a few nuclear toys,
We could facilitate our own going.

Yet the whales frolic and play with each other,
To stay long after our day.
They are the eternal union of sister and brother,
Moulded by His hands through the earth's clay.

Fly free you will see them too,
In dreamy cloud and desert dust.
Their turquoise eyes will call you,
For they see the beauty in dense forest must.

You may ask Him, "How do I soar as the eagle in flight,
When all I see is the filthy bottom of society's boot?"
The needle poised on the swollen artery that gives no fight,
To a deadly disease aimed and ready to shoot.

"Follow me and never stray," says He,
Your guide forever the sun.
And if you hear the message in the whispering tree,
Your colours will join as one.

DAWNING OF DAWN

Whom has't waken the sleeping beast,
For on thou soul shall he feast,
With tortures torment and natures waste.
Seasoned cunning, wealth to waste.
Lightning's fury dos't he bear,
Through the pains, alone to share,
With beauty sealing depths of eye,
Drunk in glory, though times a lie.
From thou'st mistake shall follow fright,
Of tomorrow's pains and blackness light,
And songs of sleep be sung,
As greatness falls, for time has come.

MATT O'REAGAN, 12C

WANDERING - WONDERING

My image rests in an unfound mirror,
That description of myself evading time,
To which life may become experience.
The purpose of these travels; calling me
Through infitessimal walls and dimensions,
- Seemingly unreal until they bound my limbs -.
'Tis a beast that's curtained so many possibilities,
Always chased by immortal misconceptions of love,
Making my search that of eternal unknowing,
- For shadows have drowned all behind - . . . .
. . . Tomorrow shall tell me which way to travel,
With optimism balancing yesterday's lie.

TALENTED STUDENTS

St. Michael's Arts and Crafts Shop is presided over by Mr. Carl Geniole who holds a specialist's certificate in this area.

Students are taught the correct handling and use of basic wood-working tools as well as a variety of sophisticated power tools. A great emphasis is placed on safety in the workshop. Sharing facilities of the shop are Art students who use the potter's wheel under the direction of Father Cullen. Classes in the workshop range from Grade Ten to Grade Twelve.

As Head of the Basilian Fathers I commend you, Mr. Fenn

SALUTE TO THE HOUSE OF ST. CLAIR

I am the St. Clair House. You casually pass me and perhaps notice my worn and pitted bricks, my discoloured facade. That is the external-inside You will find me wise, experienced, friendly and warm.

I have experienced the joyousness of the young children and the Sisters of St. Joseph in charge of them when I first opened my doors in 1926. Those were glorious days, everything was new about me and people pointed to me with pride.

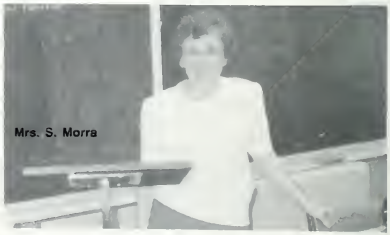
Then twenty-four years later the Sisters and their children left me and the Basilian Fathers brought in their energetic student-boarders and I opened my doors for them. Those were the days of youthful energy and my interior was filled with shouts and laughter and I heard rock music for the first time.

Among those students were hockey players from all over Ontario and Quebec and sometimes from the West too. Oh, those Junior A players were unique! Coming in exhausted after travelling home from an out-of-town game and punishing my beds with their tired bodies. The next morning the Basilians roused them and off they went to class leaving me empty for a few hours.

As time went on my shiny carpets got scuffed, my floor boards and stairs began to creak a bit and it was time for a face-lift. My bedrooms were removed and classrooms took their place. I felt like new again, my second floor became the haven of artists as I welcomed Father McKinnon and all the beauty he brought into my life with his own art and the works of his students.

Down on the first floor many great S.M.C. teachers mellowed me with their words of wisdom and below me in my basement that once was a band room and a recreation room (complete with billiard table), Father Sheehan has seen to my well-being and kept a glow of satisfaction within my sturdy frame.

Soon I will have a new body, a new shape but the reincarnation will be a re-play of the old psyche. The spirit of St. Michael's will still be in me no matter how they cast me - the tradition lives on.



Mrs. S. Morra

Mr. E. Tannis

This season was doubly successful because added to it was the finale of a decade of great running in which S.M.C. established itself as Canada's top high school team.

Sweeping the Midget, Junior and Senior league titles, the team won for the eleventh consecutive T.D.C.A.A. overall title. Thirty-five out of forty possible T.D.C.A.A. titles have been won by our team in the past ten years.

The Junior team topped its undefeated season with the first-place finish at O.F.S.A.A. In the past ten years our Blue Harriers have won twelve provincial team titles and finished sixteen times with O.F.S.A.A. medals within the same period.

The 1989/90 Senior Kerry Blues had a successful but disappointing football season. After compiling a record of 4-1-1, the Kerry Blues seemed to be untouchable. However after a hard fought playoff game against Senator O'Connor, the Kerry Blues' hopes of repeating as TDCAA champions were curtailed. The returning seniors would like to congratulate all of the graduating Kerry Blues, and wish them the best of luck in all future endeavours.

It looks as if our days of glory in the pool have come to an end. After winning the TDCAA championships for two years in a row, the Blue Whales submerged to fourth place. The quartet of Mac Fraser, Ed Van Zyl, Matt Mattei, and John Walsh led their groups to relay wins and scored all but 50 points of the team's 200. Mac had wins in the free, back, and open back. Ed had seconds in the free and 200 open free, and won the 100 free. Ed placed seventh at OFSSA. Matt was second in the breast and open I M. John had seconds in the fly and back. Other point getters were Ed Joussaume, Patrick Power, Gil Aburto, Rob Makurat, Darren Healy, Mark Luz, Paul Dobson, Steve Keith, John Wassenaar, Dave Fitzpatrick, Doug Sinclair. Newcomers David Moga, Peter Harasti, Mike Marley, and Steve Nagy placed second in the relay. Xavier Aburto was an excellent manager!

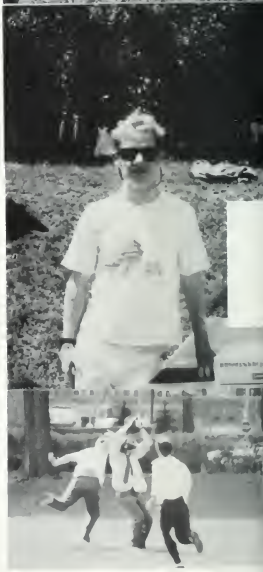
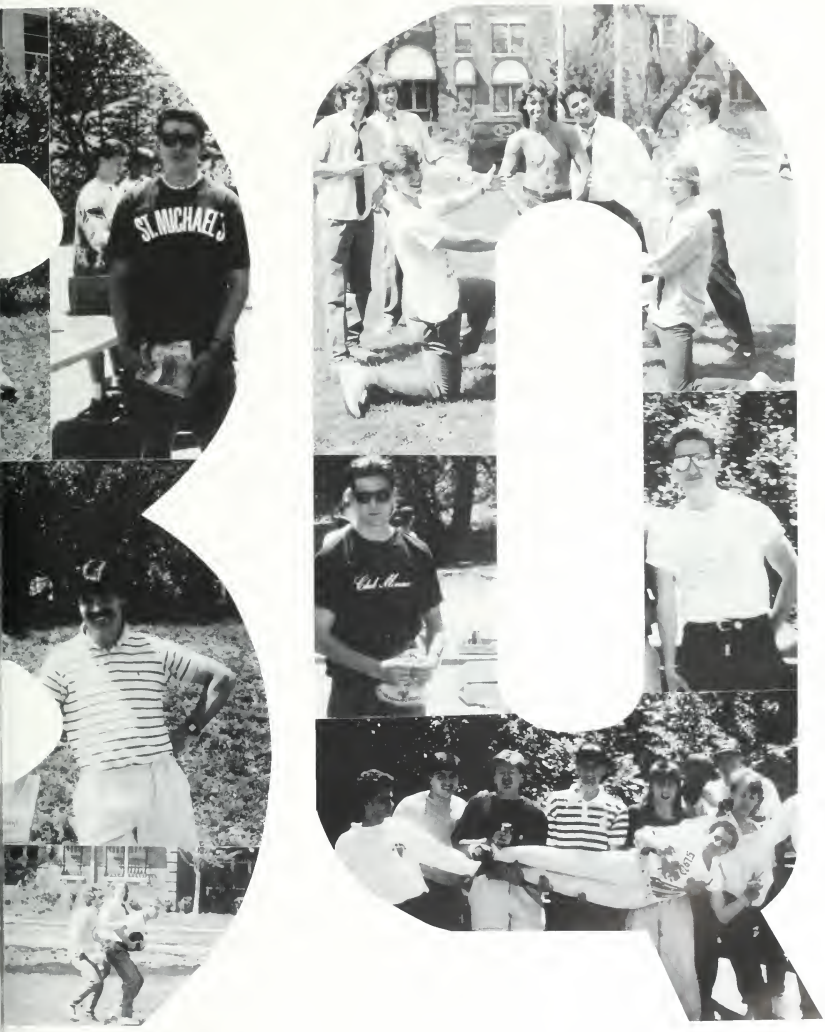
THE TRUE CLASS OF '90





ST. MICHAEL'S

GRADUATION

VALEDICTORY ADDRESS

John Connon

Fourscore and Fifty seven years ago, our Basilian Fathers brought forth on this city a new school, conceived in need and dedicated to the proposition that a Christian education and academics should be combined to form a well-rounded young Catholic men. This institution was St. Michael's College School.

Through the many years that have followed, a proud tradition has been established; a tradition in which we have taken part and shall continue to represent. For this we have the kind guidance of the Basilian Fathers and our teachers to thank. As the first wholly private class to graduate from St. Mike's, we owe the Basilians a huge debt, a dept we will not forget. Their generosity and devotion to education have helped preserve the St. Michael's heritage of equipping students with spiritual, as well as educational, principles. On behalf of the graduating class of 1990 I would like to thank you all.

There is a popular book called "Everything you need to know you learned in kindergarten." If that were so we would have left school in 1976 convinced that Batman was the ultimate force for good in the world while Darth Vader was the essence of evil. As we now realize, that is not entirely true. While we did learn how to share and not to colour outside the lines in kindergarten, we've also grown enormously since. In our five years at St. Mike's we've all benefited from the Basilian Fathers' special approach to education. Each their own unique way has contributed to our time at the school. I'm sure we all apreciate now how much more fulfilled we are after having spent many happy hours eagerly working in Father Zinger's garden. My year in Father Enright's English class taught me the value of a good El Producto and of course I'll always be grateful to Father Mulcahy for revealing that there are indeed words to the hoikity choik. However, the most important gift the Basilians have given to us is the lesson that we shoud find joy in everything we do.

We leave St. Mike's with these and many other things to be thankful for. For the teachers who imparted to us not only valuable lessons about the subjects they taught but also lessons about life; the staff who coached us to countless championships in football, hockey, basketball, cross-country, Reach for the Top, debating, tennis and track and field to mention just a few; our parents who have supported us and put up with all our complaints over the years; the drama productions which were hopefully entertaining for you all; the cafeteria staff for introducing the culinary delights of chocolate cream pies and hot beef sandwiches to our diets; and most of all, for the friends that we've made. After sharing the fun and slogging through the hard work together we've become pretty close. These friendships will hopefully become the most lasting legacy of our time at St. Mike's.

After leaving the church today as graduates, our high school careers will be over. No longer will we have announcements about our social agenda with Andre's guitar riffs in the background. The food fights we had in the Grade 13 caf when Mr. Paolini was in the other room will be just a memory. Although we are leaving these behind we will always have the spirit of St. Michael's with us. St. Mike's has given us the gift and confidence of self-expression. It is our job to combine this with the moral values that we have learnt in order to become a successful members of our communities.

While I was thinking about how to end my speech I came across a quotation from Jim Henson, the creative genius behind Seseme Street and the Muppets. I felt it was an appropriate way to end this valedictory address because his shows were an important part of our childhood and also because his message is good advice for us all, whether we are students starting kindergarten, graduates or people heading for retirement. "Please watch out for each other and love and forgive everyone. It's good life, enjoy it." Thank you and God bless you all.

TOWER POWER

Unlike most of the clubs and organizations at St Michael's the Tower requires a full year of hard work and dedication Beginning in September, the Tower staff began to assemble what would eventually be a synopsis of life here at St Michael's College School Each year the Tower attempts to be bigger and better than the previous edition We are proud to announce that the 1990 TOWER has succeeded in fulfilling this obligation. This year's edition contains more photos, creative design, and pizazz than ever before. We hope you will cherish it for generations to come

SMC GREEN COUNCIL

The SMC Green Council, for those who don't know, is St. Mike's environmental or "Gaia" club. Our main objectives are to promote awareness of the importance and urgency of concrete action in response to environmental injury, to promote awareness of these injuries and to go out and set an example with our own ecologically healing action. Some examples of what we have already done are: started pop can, glass jar and fine paper recycling programs; received speakers from Greenpeace, the Environmental Defence Fund, and Warner Troyer, famous journalist who autographed two copies of "A Guide to the Brundtland Report" for our library; organized a green grub day; circulated petitions for various environmental causes; participated vigorously in the Earth Day festivities, and the list goes on.

We all hope and pray for your active support in this and forthcoming years.

Our library has taken a giant step in preparing students for the new world of research with CD-ROM technology. This resource is coming into wide use in colleges universities and public libraries. It enables publishers to put massive amounts of information on a single optical disc and lets the user access the data quickly through the computer.

This year with a substantial donation from the Parents' Guild the library purchased a computer, CD-ROM reader, printer and two CD - ROM programs entitled MICROSOFT BOOKSHELF and MAGAZINE ARTICLE SUMMARIES (MAS).

We are quite excited about this new research tool particularly the MAS program which gives information about contents of over 200 magazines dating back to 1984. Students are enthusiastic about this as it gives them printouts of magazine articles they have selected.

We look forward to introducing another computer next year as we continue to expand our automation process.

PARENTS' GUILD

The meaningful existance of any school depends on team work involving students, teachers, and students. A necessary ingredient of team work is communication and the Parents' Guild is one of the vehicles available in keeping the lines of communication open. To that end we have various events which take place throughout the year. The Friendship Day, early in September, was an excellent way for our Grade nine parents to get acquainted with one another, with the staff and with the activities of the school. Throughout the year there are other activities such as 'Open House' night, Parent-teachers interviews, Mother and Son, Father and Son Mass and Brunch, University Night and so on.

The Parent's Guild holds four general meetings each academic year. These gatherings are of an educational nature providing parents the opportunity to keep up with educational matters originating at the school level, as well as at the ministry level. We have two major fundraising events, namely the fashion show in November, and the dinner dance in February. Both are fun times. Parents automatically belong to the guild in view of the membership fee included in the tuition costs so we can encourage you to be an active participant in the parents guild activities.
